

Division: Institute of Media, Social Sciences and Humanities

Academic programme: 5.9.1 Russian Literature and Literature of the Peoples of the Russian Federation

Mode of study: full-time, part-time

Programme length: 3 years/ 4 years

Programme level: postgraduate studies

Language of instruction: Russian

Programme description: This programme aims at training specialists for working in the fields of higher education and research. Graduates who have mastered this postgraduate programme can professionally work with:

- languages (native and foreign languages) in their theoretical, practical, functional and other aspects;
- different types of texts in their historical and theoretical aspects (for example, Russian and foreign literature, non-fiction, literature criticism, and more), that were created during various epochs, including those published in mass media, means of electronic communication, and used in spoken language;
- written, oral and multimodal (including electronic) interpersonal and mass communication in all spheres of human interaction;
- linguistic technologies used in various information systems, specialized software and electronic resources in the field of humanities.

Main programme-specific classes:

- Major-specific discipline
- History and Philosophy of Science
- Theory and Methods of Professional Education
- Foreign Language
- Practical training in pedagogy

Programme manager: Tatiana F. Semyan, Doctor of Sciences (Philology), Professor, Head of the Department of the Russian Language and Literature, member of the Dissertation Council for Philology Sciences of the Ural State Pedagogical University (Yekaterinburg), member of the National Association of Mass Media Researchers, published over 100 research papers and study guides.